A halftone version of the Seal of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The seal features a central shield depicting an Algonquian Native American holding a bow and an arrow pointing downwards. Above the shield is a crest showing a bent arm holding a broadsword. A five-pointed star is located in the upper left corner of the shield. Above the shield is a scroll banner with the state motto "Ense petit placidam sub libertate quietem". Above the scroll is a crest featuring a bent arm holding a broadsword. Above the crest is a five-pointed star.

This image is a high-contrast, black-and-white halftone photograph of a person's face. The entire image is covered in a dense, uniform pattern of small dots, which obscures most of the facial features. The person appears to have short hair and a neutral expression. The background is a lighter shade of gray, and there are some faint, darker shapes or shadows visible through the dot pattern, particularly around the eyes and mouth area.
