This block contains a high-contrast, black-and-white halftone image. It features a dense grid of dots that vary in density to create shading. There are several vertical lines of dots running across the frame. In the center, there is a small, dark rectangular area containing a few vertical lines of dots. The overall effect is similar to a photocopy or a low-quality digital print.
